The Ottawa Question—
Refugees, Nov. 20th.—The people of Canada and the government have shared in the world wide sympathy for refugees from Germany who have been forced to seek asylum in various parts of the globe. The government has been giving serious consideration to the difficult problem which is, of course, a world problem, needing the co-operation of many nations in solving a solution. For several sittings of the cabinet the question has been discussed, and it is expected that Canada's policy will be announced at a further word is received about what other nations are going to do. The problem is particularly difficult for Canada as its constitution can be reached through any normal application of the Canadian Immigration regulations. Men with a knowledge of farming and a little capital to keep themselves going until their farms are supporting them, are the type which have been given free entry into this country. The Jewish refugees from Germany do not belong to that class. There is also the confused burden of unemployment in this country, where, where, where for the sake of the general welfare of the people cannot be increased. But on the other side of the scales is the humanitarian impulse, touched by the plight of these unfortunate who are being driven from a door which is being slammed and bolted against them and who are shut out from the thresholds of other nations awaiting the verdict whether they can enter or not. It is not an easy question facing the Canadian government. In the case of a few refugees who have reached Canada's shores on various occasions, extensions of time have been granted.

Coming Session of Parliament
The date will shortly be set for the meeting of the next session of Parliament. The opening date will doubtless be shortly after the New Year. The Commission on Dominion-Provincial Relations.

The commission which has come to be called the Howell Commission and which has been carrying on its investigations so thoroughly and conscientiously will shortly present its report to the government. The exact time when the report will be finished is not known, but the commission is now listening to final briefs and representations from some of the provinces. Unfortunately the character of the commission, Justice W. Howells has been forced through ill health to resign his position on the commission as well as his post as chief justice of Ontario. In announcing Justice Howells' resignation Prime Minister MacDonald paid tribute to his intellectual ability, his sterling character and his excellent work he has done in the service of his country. He expressed the hope that relieved now of his public duties he will be able to regain his health.

Mr. Dymally, premier of New Brunswick, speaking before the Royal Commission has stated that the attitude of his Province to Canada and the Empire has been interpreted in "certain quarters." Anyone who suggests that New Brunswick wishes to withdraw from confederation he said "is lacking in appreciation of the spirit and aspirations of our people and is ill informed regarding our original presentation to this commission. New Brunswick is seeking only to shape a course that will not be a detriment to our state and cause it to realize the expectations of its founders." In presenting our case, Mr. Dymally said, "we have been prompted by a desire to promote national unity."

After the commission's report is received by the government, it is expected that the commission will be called to give findings and recommendations. To a conference will be called on the report. Mr. Bennett's Future.

When parliament meets a new leader will occupy the centre of the front row of Conservative benches. That man is Dr. Macdonald, who was elected by acclamation in London, Ontario. Mr. Bennett is not likely to be seen again in the halls of parliament. He will live in future in England. He has bought a small place about 20 miles from London in Surrey. "It is in England," he said in a recent interview, "that I see the opportunity for serving Canada in the future. Over there I shall not be considered as Mr. Bennett, the former Conservative prime minister. It will give me the chance to speak to Canada as I remain here, to speak for Canada as a whole, to work for Canada as a whole."

FIRST MOSLEM FUNERAL IN CANADA

Held Moslem Rites for A. Tarabani
Solemn rites of ancient Islam were performed in Edmonton Thursday last as more than 200 Mohammedan guests at Canada's only mosque to mourn the passing of Ali Tarabani, 58, pioneer Alberta merchant who dropped dead here Monday last.

It was the first full-scale Moslem funeral ever held in the dominion, and the first burial in the new Moslem graveyard at Beechmount cemetery.

At noon the chief mourners went to the funeral home of Foster and McFarvey, held a thorough cleaning of their own bodies, and there bathed the body of their dead comrade in accordance with centuries-old Moslem custom.

Impressive observances were held in an hour-long ritual at the mosque at 102 St. and 108 ave., many Mohammedans from other Alberta points having arrived here for the funeral. There are about 150 of the faith in Edmonton, another 100 scattered throughout Alberta, and altogether about 2,000 in Canada. Moslem officials here said.

Mr. Tarabani himself was one of the prime movers in bringing the mosque here, in an effort to make Edmonton the virtual "Mecca" for devout Moslems all over the dominion.

18 STRATHMORE TO HAVE A CANADIAN CLUB

A meeting of the representative men of the Town met in the Town Hall Wednesday evening for the purpose of discussing the feasibility of organizing a Canadian Club for Strathmore and District. At the request of Mayor Hughes, Rev. W. M. Gilbert acted as Chairman. Much discussion resulted for and against the question, however it was finally agreed to hold a gathering in the New Year.

Rev. W. M. Gilbert, G. W. Lang and Theo. E. White were elected a committee to arrange to this meeting, when an outside speaker will be invited to give an after dinner talk at a banquet to be held in the dining room of the Memorial Hall.

While Strathmore is often felt to be unrepresented by one of the clubs, the members are more or less exclusive and we feel there is ample room for a new organization, where Strathmore's own people can meet on a friendly and ungrudging way. If you only smile, it seems to make your load almost vanish. Think of all the songs that are sung on the march, just what we need happy and so on. From a straight point of view frowning ones over 60 minutes and smiling takes only 14. This makes a Scout's course quite clear. Remember "Whistle While You Work."

THE VISIT OF THEIR MAJESTIES

Alberta Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture
The visit of Their Majesties, King and Queen, to Canada, scheduled to take place in May 1939 is of far more importance and may be said to exert a more powerful influence on our National life than any event of recent years if we but make the most of it.

Symbolizing, as His Majesty does, the spirit of these ideal times, their visit is free peoples the world over. It is the one personality to whom Canadians, regardless of race, politics, party or creed may pay their homage. His is the one figure about whom all Britons may pay particularly in this, a time of trouble and confusion.

So, while we inevitably would do so, in welcoming Their Majesties, let us not fail to make the occasion ours in the fundamental purpose to wipe away these petty differences that now divide us, and to demonstrate in the display of our devotion to this, a time of trouble and confusion.

Coast to Coast are a united and inseparable people; that in the person of His Majesty we have a common tie that not only binds us to each other but to our British brethren the world over.

We should not let the occasion pass by with a colourful and heartless formalism. We should make it a time of spiritual awakening, a time for us to press on the march, just what we need happy and so on. From a straight point of view frowning ones over 60 minutes and smiling takes only 14. This makes a Scout's course quite clear. Remember "Whistle While You Work."

THE SPORTS LEDGER

Don't miss the annual hockey meet tonight in the Town Hall at 8 p.m. There are a couple of big questions up, and the executive are looking for a good turnout.

Although a letter response was looked for, so far only six curling teams have turned names into the draw committee. There should be a great deal more brooms sold than this show, less is well under way and it won't be long now. So organize your team and turn your names into the secretary.

Competition is fast and furious on the hockey alleys at night. With the cold weather it is almost sure to turn out that without the support of the dominion government and with out the approval of Alberta's bond holders who have been victimized during the past two and a half years in the extent of about 20 million dollars in defaults of principal and interest on provincial securities including the amount lost through arbitrary halving on interest rates.

It is known that some of the advisers of the government have declared that such actions have reduced public confidence and morale seriously with in the province; that school boards, for instance, are finding it extremely difficult to carry on financially because of the bad morale which has been been by the government's example.

R. B. BENNETT—A WORTHY CANADIAN

If Canadians will pay high tribute to the memory of the late Mr. R. B. Bennett, they will find that he was a man of high character and high ability. He was a man of high character and high ability. He was a man of high character and high ability. He was a man of high character and high ability.

WEDDING SHOWERS

Mrs. Stanley Kurek, Mrs. Nathan Wolman and Miss Margaret Warrack were joint hostesses at the home of Mrs. Warrack, when they arranged a very happy bridal shower in honor of the bride, Mrs. Forest, on Jean Kurek.

The gifts were presented in a gaily decorated wagon drawn by Mrs. Hilda and Janet Eby dressed as bride and groom. Joyce Woodliffe making the presentation. The many gifts were passed for all to see after which Mrs. Forest expressed her warm thanks to the donors.

The bride was again the guest of honor when a miscellaneous shower was given at the home of Mrs. Doreen.

The gifts were presented in an artistically decorated baby buggy, drawn by Evelyn Kurek, dressed as a real Cross Nurse. There was a lovely array of both useful and beautiful gifts for which the young bride expressed her thanks to the givers and the kindness of the friends.

Delicious refreshments and a happy social followed.

PREMIER ALBERTA AND PROV. TREASURER SOLON B. LOW ON THEIR WAY TO OTTAWA

It is known that although ostensibly the government has been encouraged to believe that it may be able to effect a refunding of the province's 157 million dollar public debt, Albert has not yet decided if he cannot go funds for that without the support of the dominion government and with out the approval of Alberta's bond holders who have been victimized during the past two and a half years in the extent of about 20 million dollars in defaults of principal and interest on provincial securities including the amount lost through arbitrary halving on interest rates.

If Canadians will pay high tribute to the memory of the late Mr. R. B. Bennett, they will find that he was a man of high character and high ability. He was a man of high character and high ability. He was a man of high character and high ability.

Whatever the fruits of the discussion to be held in Ottawa it is known that Low did not know until practically the last day whether he was going. And it is pretty generally believed that Low may not be better—calmly much longer.

Proof of the desire of chartered banks to operate with the government as far as they possibly can under the law and within the realm of practicality was given last week in the announcement, which came first from within the government itself, that the clearing houses operated by the banks had admitted the government's treasury branches as "credit houses," to associate membership, thus providing the means by which deposits in the treasury branches could have their cheques cleared through the chartered banks without cost if within the same town, or at the same exchange rate as the clearing house.

The provincial treasury first received the news of the clearing houses, and the banks followed the request. Under the law the executive of the Canadian Bankers' Association is required to make such a clearing house, and that application was endorsed immediately when the executive met in Montreal. In the case of the clearing house, the banks are clearing the house, and that application was endorsed immediately when the executive met in Montreal. In the case of the clearing house, the banks are clearing the house, and that application was endorsed immediately when the executive met in Montreal.

The clearing house there contained a clause which would have forbidden such associate membership, but the members of the clearing house, in agreement to the constitution to admit the treasury branches. Being less vocal in their own interests than are politicians, the banks and politics about the arrangement until the government itself made it known.

The special session of the legislature ended with royal assent being given to the eight bills, among them by which the members of the house voted themselves $10 a day not only for that session but for all other special sessions in the future. In addition of course to the $2000 which they draw for each year's session, the bill, they will be able to have a special session now any time and get pay for it.

Progress is being recorded in the organization of the U.N. movement in the province with the definite establishment in constituency-wide basis with the objective of securing nominations of non-party candidates at next provincial general election, of U.N. groups in 28 of Alberta's constituencies. The extent of the stamp in Social Credit race is greater than generally supposed and the U.N. movement seems to be gaining ground rapidly.

One competent observer who has travelled the province from end to end recently says that riding in Calgary, where Hon. W. E. Tanner is now sitting member, Mr. Tanner is highly regarded everywhere and open to the most dependable and honest of the Social Credit members.

The workshop of character is every day life. The successful and commonplace hour is where the battle is lost or won. —Maithie D. Balcock.

There are two kinds of people on earth today;
Just two kinds of people, no more, I say.

Not the sinner and saint, for it's well understood
The good are half bad, and the bad are half good.

Not the rich and the poor, for to rate a man's wealth,
You must first know the state of his conscience and health.

Not the humble and proud, for in life's little span,
Who put on vain airs is not counted a man.

Not the happy and sad, for the swift flying years
Bring each man his laughter and each man his tears.

No; the two kinds of people on earth, I mean,
Are the people who lift, and the people who lean.

Wherever you go, you will find the earth's masses
Are always divided in just these two classes.

And oddly enough, you will find too, I swear,
There's always one lifter to twenty who lean.

In which class are you? Are you easing the load
Of overtaxed lifters, who toll down the road?

Or are you a leazer, who lets others share
Your portion of labor, and worry and care?

—Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

"New times demand new measures and new men,
The world advances and in time out grows
The laws that in our fathers day were best;

And doubtless after us come purer schemes
Will be shaped out by wiser men than we,
Made wiser by the steady growth of truth."

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

By H. G. L. Strange
Director of The Crop Testing Plan

The Trade Treaties just signed by Great Britain, the United States and Canada constitute a new policy of great importance to Canadian farmers. The goods farmers buy will be slightly lowered in price. Cattlemen will have the opportunity of exporting annually about three million dollars' worth more of stock, and there will be a slightly increased export, too, of certain agricultural products other than wheat.

The six cent preference—that beneficial protection enjoyed by Canadian wheat—has been eliminated, but our farmers have cheerfully given this up, for now wheat growers can approach the Government, figuratively with clean economic hands, and say "You have made a splendid start in lowering tariffs; carry on with the good work. Lower the tariffs now against the goods of European countries so that foreign people can sell more of their goods and commodities to Canada, and so be enabled to purchase more of our wheat."

I am forced myself to the conclusion that lower tariffs form the only practical means by which Prairie farmers can sell that quantity of wheat

A FARMER'S MUSINGS

(by Tim Longbottom)

SEEING OURSELVES—

While it was very nice of large groups of Canadians to register their protests against the treatment of German Jews, it would have been better had the efforts been directed against conditions within our own borders.

A great many people are now living on the dole, and it is well known that the young folk especially are suffering from the ill which, invariably, follows in the wake of long periods of enforced idleness.

With the upper half of a large and wealthy content in our possession, there is no need for such a disgraceful state of affairs and a remedy would be found if the people spoke up with one united voice.

And why go to hate ridden Europe for examples of persecution when we have a perfect one at home?

Quite recently, a man in Quebec was sentenced to 2 years in jail for breaking the government padlock on the door of his own place.

With such fine examples of negligence and injustice before us, the throwing of stones at others seems a childish and foolish pastime.

THE LOCK BREAKER—
Recent editions of "Old Country Journals" tell of a youthful sergeant who came into the limelight during the critical period when warring Canada had control of an important sector of old Jewashien.

As a member of Scotland's historic Blackwatch Regiment, the sergeant made his way in the face of rifle fire to one of the gates of the walled city and was successful in his efforts to destroy the heavy lock.

When this was done, he threw the ponderous gates wide open and his comrades were enabled to rush into important positions with few casualties. A breach could have been made by employing a piece of field artillery, but sentiment and the knowledge that the nearby houses sheltered many non-combatants suggested the other course.

The gates of the golden city have been opened repeatedly by invading legions of different races, but this was the first time in history that a few small tools, including a saw did in other days, battering rams, muzzle loading guns and fires were employed, and on more than one occasion men had to climb over the bodies of the dead and wounded before they could gain admission.

CORPORAL PUNISHMENT—

Although an evangelist recently spoke of corporal punishment as though he favored it as a corrective measure for wayward boys, it must be said that the policy is not an enlightened one.

When approached in the right spirit, boys will often respond to reason, and the father who fails to make use of this effective weapon is not playing a very good hand in the great game of life.

Except in cases of heinous crimes, and severe breaches of discipline, flogging is no longer practised in the penal institutions and navies of the world.

It has been proven over and over again that men emerge from the ordeal more reckless and rebellious than before, largely because of the degradation which enters into their souls through the brutal proceeding.

which they must, I believe, produce each year in order to maintain their very economic existence.

Lower tariffs, too, would certainly promote the cause of world peace, and so would decrease the necessity for costly rearming for war.

ELLA WHEELER WILCOX—
"It is easy enough to be pleasant
When things go on like a song;
But the man that's worth while
Is the man that can smile."

When everything goes dead wrong—
Although the above lines were later created by an English writer, the one who gave the quotation made a mistake.

The complete poem is included in the works of Ella Wheeler Wilcox, the American poetess, who first came into prominence during the closing years of the 19th century.

William Randolph Hearst was quick to recognize her rare gift of touching on the problems of life with a sympathetic pen, and her numerous efforts found prominent places in his widely circulated journals before appearing in book form.

The poetess was highly esteemed for the bits of wisdom which marked many of her small poems and it is quite likely that a number of these will be cherished by future generations of Americans.

Surely a gem like the one that follows is worthy of preservation.

"Waste no tears
Upon the blotted record of lost years.
But turn the leaf, and smile! Oh
Smile to see
The fair white pages that remain for Thee."

FISH BOOKLET

The Department of Fisheries, Ottawa, has just released a most helpful and interesting booklet "100 Tempting Fish Recipes." The recipes are planned specifically for Canadian fish, and are tested by well known home economists. Interesting chapters on the food value, vitamin content and the way to buy fish are also included. Most recipes in this book for everyday use will be Canadian fish, and Creamed Canadian Pinnaw Haddock. The recipe with the most come-along in the title is Huggie-Buff. You may learn how to make it by writing the Department of Fisheries, Ottawa for your free copy of this booklet.

1939 FORD CARS AND NEW MERCURY 8

PICTURED above are the two Ford V-8 cars and the new Mercury 8 announced by Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited, for 1939. Top, Ford V-8 Fordor Sedan; centre, Deluxe Ford V-8 Fordor Coupe; bottom, Mercury 8. All three cars are individually styled. All have hydraulic brakes. The Ford V-8 is available in three models. It has a full grille and unobtrusive louvers at the rear of the hood. Interiors are roomy and well-appointed. The Deluxe Ford V-8 has widely new streamlines, a deep hood unbroken by louvers, a low radiator grille in bright metal and wide spaced headlamps. Both Ford cars are covered with the improved 85 horsepower engine. The Mercury 8 is entirely new to the Ford-Line and fills a place between the deluxe Ford and the Lincoln-Zephyr. It is a big car with a 116-inch wheelbase. Its V-8 engine develops 95 horsepower. The front end design with low radiator grille reflects Lincoln-Zephyr styling. There is a choice of four body types.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

At all Christian Science Churches next Sunday, the subject of the Lesson-Service will be "God the Only Cause and Creator." One of the Scriptural quotations to the Lesson-Sermon is Nehemiah 9: "Thou, even thou art Lord alone; thou hast made heaven, the heaven of heavens, with all their host, the earth, and all that is therein the sea, and all things that are therein, and thou preservest them all, and the host of heaven worshipeth thee." One of the correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, is—"Infinite Mind creates and governs all, from the mental molecule to infinity. This divine Principle of all expresses Science and art throughout His creation, and the immortality of man and the universe. Creation is ever appearing, and ever continue to appear from the nature of its inexhaustible source."

THE "U" AND "I" IN BUSINESS

When we separate the word "business" into its component letters, U and I, we find that "U" and "I" are in it. In fact, if "U" and "I" were not in "business," it would not be business. Therefore, if business is to remain "business," we must keep "U" and "I" in it.

Putnam, we discover that "U" comes before "I" in business and that "I" is silent—it is to be seen, not heard. Also, the "U" in business has the sound of "I," which indicates it is an amalgamation of the interest of "U" and "I" and that when they are properly amalgamated, business becomes harmonious and altogether profitable. Ex.

Come, let U and I get together and make more business.

CHAMBERLAIN—FOR OR AGAINST?

In the face of much direct opposition, from many newspapers, from many individuals of many different vocations, The Standard has held the view that Chamberlain Policy was the one to uphold and continue the Cause of Peace in the world. It is thus encouraging to read the following taken from the Financial Post, a paper which is not prone to taking a sentimental outlook on World matters.

Mr. Hoover on Munich—
Herbert Hoover, ex-president of the United States, told a Toronto audience on Tuesday evening last that he regarded the Munich settlement as a genuine contribution to the peace of the world. Thus he supports the view this paper has presented.

No one understands better than Mr. Hoover the fierceness of national hatreds in Europe. No one appreciates better than he the significance of humanitarian policies in a continent enveloped in darkness as is Europe today.

Mr. Hoover's judgment on the Munich agreements is important. It has been said that ten million lives were saved by his relief efforts during the Great War. Perhaps he feels that ten million lives have been saved by the Munich settlement. Certainly millions of boys who would have been killed and millions of men, women and children who would have starved have been given a new chance for life and freedom.

All over Canada there is a bitter resolution of feeling against the Munich settlement. Mr. Chamberlain is condemned for not having gone to war, although war could have settled anything.

Mr. Hon. Arthur Meighen remarked at the York Bible Class dinner (where Mr. Hoover spoke), that there are many people in Canada who are only too ready to keep alive and criticism upon the Mother Country even when she has saved the world from war. Senator Meighen could have added that the critics of a policy of appeasement include munitions profiteers.

Rockyford

A wedding of interest to a large circle of friends was solemnized at St. Rita's Church on Wednesday morning November 23, when Miss Viola, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Busch became the bride of Mr. Harry Wilson of Drumheller, Alta. Father Klitten conducted the service. The bride was very tastefully attired in a suit of grey cloth trimmed in Burgundy and the same shade of accessories. She wore a corsage of white carnations to match her white satin blouse. She was assisted by her sister Miss Kathie, who wore a dress of green with matching hose and hat. The groom was attended by the bride's brother Mr. Weldon Busch. At the home of the bride's parents a delightful reception was arranged under the supervision of Mrs. E. Healey. The rooms were decorated in pink and white bells and streamers, with a large four tier wedding cake elaborately decorated and containing the dining table. Many close friends of the couple were present as well as the relatives of both parties. After the reception the happy couple left for a short trip and on their return will make their home in Drumheller where Mr. Wilson is now located as a mechanic in a local garage there.

Mr. Simon Isopel is at present installing a wide portable Electric Light system in his large country home. The first wedding for some time to be conducted in United Church at Rockyford was solemnized on Friday November 25th, when Miss Ruth, second daughter of Mrs. County and the late Mr. Chas. County became the bride of Mr. John Blum of Rocky Mountain House, Alta. Rev. Chapman officiated. The bride who entered the church on the arm of her sister brother, who gave her in marriage, looked very charming in her gown of white satin, which was made in pink cases with slight train. She wore a fingertip length veil and carried a bouquet of pink roses. She was attended by her sister Miss Marie, who chose for her dress pink crepe in jacket effect style, who carried red carnations. The groom was assisted by Mr. Howard Logan. After a pleasant wedding dinner arranged at the home of the bride's mother the happy couple left by bus for Drumheller where they will visit with the groom's people. Upon their return they will make their home at Bluffton, Alta.

At a recent meeting of the Rockyford Cutlers it was decided to get everything in readiness for the cold weather. Mr. E. L. Stone was appointed president and has started work in the attention of the cutting stones by having same sharpened.

Mrs. George Thibault has had several days in bed with a very bad cold. We trust she will have a speedy recovery.

The stage is all set for the United Church annual Bazaar which is to be held on Thursday, December 1st, in the hall at Rockyford. The ladies have a nice supply of interesting articles for sale, and they are also cooking a good supper to be served at 5.30 till 7 p.m. and then a series of one act plays with pleasant intermissions of comic songs and other interesting items.

The Rockyford Bridge Club held their mixed bridge night of the month at the home of Mrs. E. Griffiths with four tables in play. The high score for the night went to Mr. and Mrs. E. McLean. A delightful lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Miss Knapp.

Mrs. George Muehlethaler who has been in the hospital for some time returned home on Thursday evening. She is feeling much relieved from her operation and we hope for a complete return to good health in a short time. Her husband who has been working at Seabee and Lake Louise for the summer also returned the same night as the work there is closed for the season.

Several of the residents motored to Gleichen on Friday last for the Old Timers banquet and ball there. They report a grand time.

Mr. Chas. Pomroy had the misfortune to have his toe crushed by a large block of coal. He had medical attention in Calgary and is now using crutches.
